H.E. MRS. MONICA GEINGOS Message

As the First Lady of Namibia, I am very excited to share with you this inspiring story of Ndeshipanda.

As you are all aware, in our African communities and countries, girls and women often miss out on opportunities to access education. There is a societal problem that continues to favor men above women. Young girls such as Ndeshipanda, whose choice and autonomy negotiated on her behalf are part of our reality. Our culture and socialization does not respect the dignity of adolescent girls and young women.

That is why education of the girl child is pivotal. Young women that are educated for example, marry later, have healthier children, and earn higher incomes enabling them to invest back into their families and communities. Because of their educational background, they play more active roles in leading their communities, hence contribute to the development of their countries. They become more than just mothers.

The mere fact that these young women might have the chance of a healthier and happier life should be reason enough for promoting girls' education. Therefore, I am delighted to work closely with Merck Foundation to empower girls and women in education.

I am inspired by the shifting landscape that has seen talented young women stepping into frontiers that are male-dominated. Therefore, I admonish you to expand your career options. You can be a Doctor, Engineer, Judge, Scientist, Pilot, Banker, Investor, Minister and President. Believe in yourself, and you can be part of creating the Africa we want.

My final message to every girl, young woman, boy and young man reading this book is that you can play a role as did Ndeshipanda's friends to address the deep structural challenges towards gender equality. I hope you all enjoy reading this story and share its message with your friends, family and community members.

Dr. Rasha Kelej MESSAGE

“As the CEO of Merck Foundation and as an African woman, I am very proud to introduce this story to emphasize the importance of Girl Education. The story of a young girl called Ndeshipanda.

Ndeshipanda represents our African girls who struggle for their education every day. I strongly believe in girl education. When Girls are educated, their countries become more powerful, stronger & prosperous.

Education is the only thing that no one can take away from you. So, for all families out there, support your girl education like what happened in this story. Let's join hands to help them to reach their potential and advance our Africa.

I realize there's need for more support as there are many brilliant girls out there who are struggling financially and socially to meet their educational needs. Therefore, we started “Educating Linda” pan African program which is going to be tailored for each country to contribute to the future of these girls as part of “Merck More Than a Mother”. I strongly believe that empowering women starts with education, to enable them to be healthier, stronger and independent.

I hope this story would inspire every girl to fight for her right of education and encourage our communities to support education of young unprivileged but brilliant girls, so that they can reach their potential and pursue their dreams”.

One beautiful morning, in a city so colorful, a young lady named Dr. Ndeshipanda drove slowly down the road across the quiet street. Everything looked lovely.

Dr. Ndeshipanda was heading to a small village, far away from the city.

Ndeshipanda had been invited to give a motivational talk at a school in her village

Ndeshipanda has won a Nobel prize in Science this year for her achievement. She is very happy and proud

She reached the school in due time. The calmness of the day was wonderful. Everything was good.

Dr. Ndeshipanda was greeted by the Headmaster of the school and he assured her that everyone was waiting for her.

Hello Dr. Ndeshipanda, welcome to our school.

Thank you, Sir, I am glad to be here.

He then took Ndeshipanda to meet the students

The Headmaster of the school welcomed everyone in the room.

Please, you are welcome to inspire all of us

Thank you, I will be very glad if I can.

The moment we have all been waiting for has come.

Let us all join together to welcome Dr. Ndeshipanda.

Let me tell you a story of a young girl, whose name I will reveal later.

After greeting them, Ndeshipanda proceeded by telling them a story.

Everyone kept quite and listened to Dr. Ndeshipanda as she began the story. All the students really wanted an inspiration.

Please Dr. Ndeshipanda, tell us anything, we want to be inspired to become like you.

She narrated.....
Once upon a time, in a village so far away, there lived a young intelligent girl who stayed with her family.

My dear children, when did they say you are going back to school?

We are going back tomorrow.

The holiday is surely over

When I finish school and get a job, I will get all of us out of this poverty.

And I wish to change the community through Scientific inventions.

My dream is to study hard and become a Scientist.

The young girl had a dream at a young age ...

I need to hurry up or else I shall be late for school. Oh! and I have to do some other work at home... I am a girl, I should be responsible like my mother.

Every morning, before going to school, the young girl and her peers walked a long distance to fetch water. The whole village did not have pipe water, they used water from the river.

I don't know if it's right but that's my life.

As a girl, I need to work twice as hard as boys.

My brothers can't help, they are boys.

After doing all the work, she would join her brothers to go to school.

Lets hurry up, we are late for school.

Yes you are right.

The Teacher forgave them for being late, he also thought about a solution.

The Teacher approached the Leader of a local NGO and convinced him to build a well in the village.

At the young girl's home...
Food was a problem because her family was poor and they had so many children. Their parents were running out of answers.

Please be patient, we know you are hungry. Your father is looking for a solution.

I am going out for a few hours...

Dad...
Mom... I am hungry.

Let's patiently wait for your father. He will come back with something.

Let me see if I can get something...

But mom, when shall we get out of this poverty?

I am also hungry. I want food.

Just wait for me, I will be back as soon as I get something.

Their father went to a cafeteria to meet a friend.

Hello Dawid, can I talk to you for a minute?

Hello Haufiku! No worries at all, what do you want to tell me..

Dawid, I need to borrow some money from you.

Oh! I don't think I will be of any help. I don't have any money.

As Haufiku and Dawid were conversing, Norman, one of the richest men in the village was coming to the same cafeteria. Norman was so rich that he moved around with a bag full of money. Everyone wanted to be friends with Norman because he had what they wanted: Money!

Meanwhile... Haufiku was waiting patiently at the counter...

Norman made himself clear..

Dawid explained more...

Norman decided to talk to Haufiku himself.

I am an honest man, I will repay you your money.

Dawid, you said you trust your friend Haufiku?

Haufiku is a family man, he can be trusted.

He has children to look after.

I would give you my daughter as a wife if she was old enough, I really need help.

I like that! Give me your daughter and I will give you money. I don't care if she is young.

Then so be it, come tomorrow and take her.

But you will have to pay cows as dowry for my daughter.

Let's shake hands for my new bride.. I don't know you Haufiku but I believe you are a good man.

I believe this is a good outcome of a conversation between gentlemen. Let's celebrate it.

I believe our future together will be better. You will be my son-in-law. You know!

After celebrating to their agreement, Haufiku was given bundles of money to take home and prepare for the dowry of his daughter which would be brought the next day.

I believe, I made the right decision giving my daughter to Norman .

Let me sip my soda, if it finishes, I will buy another one. I now have a lot of money.

Haufiku thought he had made a very good decision but he was giving away a ten year old in marriage.

Take this money and buy food for every one.

At home... Haufiku's wife was astonished to see her husband with a lot of money.

The young girl didn't know that her father had betrayed her rights; her future.

The following morning...

Are you serious? Your sister is too young to be someone's wife. She is supposed to be in school with us.

Elias's colleagues believed they were making the right decision to report the issue to their school Teacher.

Does anyone see where the Teacher is standing?

I can see him. There he is, let's go.

I can see my Teacher.

But guys I don't want to sound like I am reporting.

Can we find a good way of reporting this? Otherwise my father will kill me.

Don't worry Elias.

I know how to say it. Don't worry, let's do this.

They explained everything.

That's why she didn't come to school today.

It's absurd!

Are you guys serious?

Yes we are, and the man who will marry her is bringing the dowry today.

Now that's serious.
Let's hurry up before something stupid happens. Let's go and stop this madness. No underage girl is supposed to be given in marriage.

You are right Teacher. Very right.

Let's do this for her future and the future of all of us.

You know that she is a very bright student. Actually one of the best I have ever seen. There is no way someone should destroy her future.

The school Teacher and his students went to Elias's home to try and stop his father from giving his sister away.

You really made the right decision to come to me.

Meanwhile someone else was going to the girl's house.

It was Norman . He had the dowry.

Norman, is that you? What are you doing here?

I don't understand this.

Haufiku immediately came out, he brought his daughter.

The village Chief and his secretary immediately came...

This nonsense is punishable by law. Let me hope you are all joking. Child marriage is a crime.

I think, I have to reconsider and ask for forgiveness, I dont want anything bad to happen.

Are you really giving away that young girl ?

What about Norman ??

Thank God!

Thank God, her father has decided to reconsider his-poor decision.

This was going to kill your daughter's future. You should feel ashamed.

I had fear of losing my dream of becoming a Scientist.

Norman, you should abstain from this barbaric habit

I didn't know the magnitude of my mistakes...

I am supposed to take Norman and Haufiku to my office to make a statement for this crime.

They should be punished to serve as an example to other parents who would do the same.

Let's go... I am not leaving you here. You are supposed to pay for this crime.

I am really sorry, forgive me.

Please forgive me, I now understand the seriousness of my crime. I will never repeat it, believe me.

Take your money back. This is all I have left. You can come back when she is old enough.

Keep it, I know you needed it. I will take this as a lifetime lesson. Never take an underage for a wife. It is a crime.

Guys, thank you for saving my life. I will never forget this for the rest of my life.

Wow! We did it.

You're welcome.

They all went back to school together. They were very happy.

Go to class and study, no one should destroy your future, not even your parents.

Let's go and study, let's pursue our future.

What we did today will change the way some parents treat their children especially girls.

The young girl went to her class, sat on her desk and and wrote her name on it. She promised herself to become whatever she wanted to become in the future; a Scientist.

I will honor this day by studying hard and becoming a Scientist.

Wow! what a story. I wonder if it really happened.

She then went on and revealed the young girl's name.

That young girl is me, I sat on this desk and wrote my name on it; Ndeshipanda.

Every one stood up to applaud Dr. Ndeshipanda

Thank you. I believe that you all have potential to be what you want to be.

WOW!

WOW!

THE END
